

GIVE YOUR HOUSE A GOOD IMPRESSION RIGHT AWAY

It's important for your stairwell to always be clean. It is after all the first thing people see when they enter your house. It's your house's business card. Unfortunately, it's a place where there's a lot of clutter as well and which creates a disorderly feeling that way. Shoes at the front door, jackets piled up, a dirty doormat, ...

- Use the 'Clean As You Go'-principle in your hall. Put the shoes in the shoe cabinet right away and hang jackets in the closet or at the hook.
- Vacuum and mop the floor weekly with some soapy water and Feem Active Cleaner. When there's carpet in the hall, vacuum it thoroughly as well. Some sand or loose dirt can get stuck on it.
- Regularly prod the doormat outside. It can get dirty very quickly.

The stairs are the most dominant element in your hall and is used extensively daily. That leaves its marks of course and requires regular maintenance. Make it a habit to clean the stairs as well when you clean the hall. Well-kept stairs give your interior a nice and looked after impression.

- Vacuum the stairs at least once a week.
- Use a lightly moist cloth or mop to remove the rest of the dirt or dust. You don't need more than a bit of water and Feem Active Cleaner.
- Wait for the stairs to dry before you walk on it.
